AMHERST DEFEATS BUFF AND BLUE

Basketball Team Loses Close Contest to New Englanders—Garner Sprains Ankle

SCORE 31-25

The Buff and Blue basketeers, handicapped by the loss of Garner, star center, lost to Amherst by a 31-25 score. Garner sprained his ankle at the end of the first five minutes of play and was forced to retire from the contest. At the time of the accident the score stood 7-2 in favor of Hamilton, but after the retirement of Garner, the Buff and Blue were unable to combat the Amherst five on even terms.

Both teams played splendid basketball from the moment they took the floor. Amherst enjoyed a distinct edge in shooting from the floor, caging 12 field baskets to 5 for the Buff and Blue. On the foul line however, McGiffin displayed remarkable form and succeeded in scoring 15 fouls out of 24 chances. Amherst scored but seven times from the foul line.

Due to the enforced change in Hamilton's lineup, Amherst secured the jump in the first half and at intermission they led the Buff and Blue by a 24-14 score. In the final half, however, the Hamilton quintet made a big comeback, but were unable to overcome the lead secured by Amherst in the initial period. Hatch, who played center in a very creditable manner after the injury of Garner, caged two pretty shots from the field. Hamilton, Macey and Warren secured one each, while McGiffin stood high scorer of the game with 15 foul shots to his credit. Captain Stern did the best guarding of the game, and was ably helped by McGiffin. Walker and Dean, Amherst forwards, played star games for the local team.

THE WILSON FOUNDATION

In order that anyone who wishes may contribute to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, the following committee will receive subscriptions until March 1: Prof. Bonham, Prof. Patton, Prof. Dale, J. V. Davis, '22, H. F. Comrie, '22, K. B. Morgan, '22, E. H. Euler, '23, and R. S. Fowler, '23.

COLGATE AND CLARKSON MEET HOCKEY TEAM NEXT

The Colgate hockey team will meet Captain Reeder's skaters here tomorrow. The visiting team has shown a good deal of strength in previous contests of the year. The strong Army team, however, ran up the same score against them, as the West Pointers did against our varsity. Cornell netted three goals against Colgate's two in a game in which Sanford, the Maroon center, played a stellar game. The main strength of the Colgate team centers around Sanford who has shown excellent form in carrying and shooting the puck, and in Capt. Gormley, the goal tender.

After Colgate, Clarkson is the next team on the Buff and Blue schedule. The upstaters promise to offer a strong resistance in the game next Saturday afternoon in Clinton. It will be remembered that last year, the Potsdam aggregation scored the first goal of the season against Hamilton. This year their team has lost but two men whose places have been filled by very able players. With the ice in good condition, the contest ought to be a fast and close one.

THE UNIVERSITY UNION

The American University Union, with which Hamilton College is connected as a subscribing institution, cordially invites students and graduates of the college visiting Europe to make use of the facilities offered at the Union offices at 50 Russell Square, London, W. C., and 1 rue de Fleurus, Paris. Lists of lodgings and pensions are kept and various social opportunities are offered. Access may also be obtained to universities and other institutions of learning, and candidates for degrees will find their way made easier by consulting, at Paris, Professor Paul Van Dyke, Director of the Continental Division, and at London, Dr. George E. MacLean, Director of the British Division.

The annual bulletin of the Union has just been issued and may be obtained on application to the Secretary, Professor J. W. Cunliffe, Journalism Building, Columbia University, New York City. The reports show that there were 1,153 registrations during the year at the London office, and over 500 at the Paris headquarters.

NEW MEN

The following men have entered college at the beginning of the second semester:

BASKETBALL TEAM LOSES TO WESLEYAN

Slow Game Goes to Middletown Team—Hamilton Plays Under Handicap

On Saturday afternoon, the Buff and Blue basketball team dropped a dull and listless game to the Wesleyan aggregation at Middletown, Conn. The Hamilton team was greatly handicapped by the absence of Garner, the Buff and Blue's star center, who suffered a painful injury to his ankle the night before in the Amherst game.

The floor work of both teams was very slow and loose. The whole game was marked by the number of fouls made by both sides. In the first period, Robertson, the captain of the Wesleyan team, accomplished the unusual feat of scoring four points on a single play. A Hamilton man fouled him in the act of shooting a basket, the ball went into the basket and then he had a chance to throw two fouls, which he converted into points.

Wesleyan got the lead early in the game and kept a safe margin throughout the rest of the contest that Hamilton was unable to overcome. Near the end of the game Hamilton staged a come-back when Hatch and Hamilton caged some neat shots from the floor in quick succession. However, the spurt came too late for the Buff and Blue to cut down the lead of their opponents.

Hamilton, Hatch and McGiffin starred for the Buff and Blue and Robertson, Robinson, King and Moore played stellar basketball for Wesleyan.

COLUMBIA AND PENNSYLVANIA BOW BEFORE HOCKEY SEXTET

Ice Palace Scene of Two Fast, Hard-fought Games—W. Thompson Stars for Buff and Blue in Both Contests.

Playing a brand of hockey that was almost faultless, the Hamilton hockey team defeated two fast sixes from Columbia and Pennsylvania by 2-1 and 4-2 scores. The team work of the Buff and Blue in both of these contests, coupled with the excellent work of W. Thompson, were the outstanding features of the games. By winning both of these contests, Hamilton still keeps up its record that it has not been defeated on the home rink in two years and has lost only one game in two seasons.

COLUMBIA GAME

The Buff and Blue hockey team defeated the strong Columbia University sextet by the close score of 2-1, on Monday evening, February 6th, in the new hockey building.

Hamilton's scores came in the first period. Marlow tallied the first goal from the front of the cage after racing the length of the rink. Five minutes later Yates stopped a pass from in back of the cage and scored from a difficult angle on the left side. With only two minutes of the last period left, Captain Anderson scored for Columbia, after a brilliant journey all the way from his own goal.

The old saying, "The best defense is a good offense" was clearly exemplified in this game. The puck was kept in Columbia territory most of the game. The Hamilton backs were not troubled much of the time. However, Columbia put up an exceptionally brilliant defense which accounted for the fact that the Hamilton skaters were able to make only two goals. The greatset burden of the game fell upon the forwards, Yates and R. Thompson, and upon W. Thompson, who was in the scrimmage most of the time. Marlow made several successful trips from his end of the rink, carrying the puck into enemy territory.

Hamilton had much to fear from Captain Anderson, who is one of the fastest puck chasers that has visited the new rink.

The Hamilton skaters displayed a greater amount of team-work in this game than they have in previous games this year.

Line-up and score:

HAMILTON 2		COLUMBIA 1

Yates		Rollins
	Right Wing
R. Thompson		Church

PENN GAME

With his speedy skating and clever handling of the puck, Watson Thompson starred for the Hamilton hockey team last Friday evening, in the game with the University of Pennsylvania by making three goals in the last period. He also figured in the goal which was made in the second period. He took the puck around in back of the goal and passed to Yates, who pushed it past Pinney. From the start Hamilton took the offense, and only once, at the beginning of the second period were they forced to change. Hamilton showed very good team-work throughout the game. The game was witnessed by a large crowd, which showed much enthusiasm.

In the initial period the Buff and Blue sextet tried a number of long shots, but they were all stopped by Pinney, Penn's goal guard. Neither side was able to score in this period. But at the start of the second period, Penn made a whirlwind attack and at the end of two minutes, Kearns put one inside of the cage, for the first score of the game. The Buff and Blue soon retaliated, when Yates received a pass from Thompson and caged one for Hamilton.

Shortly after the beginning of the final period, Wanamaker, by some brilliant skating, took the puck up the ice, and made a long shot, which slipped past Dick Reeder, making Penn's second and last score of the game. Then Hamilton started, and Watson Thompson carried the puck up the rink three times for as many goals, within five minutes. In making these goals "Tommy" displayed the cleverest bit of skating that has been seen on the rink.

Line-up and summary:

HAMILTON 4		U. OF PENN. 2

Customs.

All of us have heard much of the customs that used to be, and that used to rule the freshman during his first year. But what has become of these customs? It would seem to us that they are rapidly being discarded and no new ones are taking the place of the old ones.

One of the foremost customs that is rapidly being lost to Hamilton is the saying "Hello" to everybody upon the campus. One of the first things that used to be instilled into the freshman was that he was supposed to speak to upperclassmen first. At the present time if an upperclassman should walk around the quadrangle it is doubtful whether a single slimer would speak first. And even if the upperclassman speaks it is seldom that the first year man answers. But still the upperclassmen do nothing about it. The "Hello" is dying out. The upperclassmen have no one but themselves to blame.

Another custom which is vanishing is class order. A few years ago a slimer never thought of going through a door before a senior, junior, or a sophomore. Now the only time that this custom is observed is when we are dismissed from chapel. After a college meeting in Commons or after a game in the gym, it is a case of freshmen first, the rest are only upperclassmen and sophomores and they can follow the slimers. Then, too, at the games freshmen sit down and let the seniors and juniors stand up and watch the game.

"Horsing" is a joke. It is the freshman who "razz" the rusties instead of the sophomores "horsing" the slimers. The two underclasses think nothing of the old red and green customs. The only row that was started all year from this custom, was arouused by an upperclassman who wanted to put a little life into a pep meeting before the Union game. Outside of this one row, the freshmen wear red anytime they want to and the sophomores wear green and neither class does a thing about it. It seems as if the two underclasses are either asleep or lazy.

We are not habitual crabbers but we earnestly believe that unless the college wakes up and does something about the "Hello", "Horsing", and other customs, the Hamilton spirit and the friendly rivalry between the underclasses will soon die out.

"1. All material will be published with the name and city or college of the contributors, unless the Ed. gets a very personal note that such contributor is too modest to burst into print.

2. Providing we make enough money between then and now, a prize will be given to the contributor who gets the largest amount of original matter printed.

3. The Royal Gaboon reserves the right to slightly alter any accepted material, providing such alteration is believed necessary.

4. All material must be submitted to the Editor-in-chief by May 1, 1922.

TRACK PRACTICE STARTS

Winter track practice was started on the new indoor track last Wednesday when Coach Squires and Captain Pope called for a few of the veterans to try out the new track. At the present time only the middle distance men are reporting but the full squad will probably be called out in a week or two. Coach Squires is trying to work up a relay team to send to the Penn Relays.

The big or little company—which?

WHEN the talk turns to where should a fellow start work, a question arises on which college men naturally take sides.

"You'll be buried in the big company," say some. "Everything is red tape and departments working against each other."

"Your little company never gets you anywhere," others assert. "The bigger the company the bigger your opportunity."

And that seems true—but in a different sense. Not physical size but bigness of purpose should be our standard for judging an industrial organization just as it is for judging a man.

Where will you find this company with a vision?

Whether its plant covers a hundred acres or is only a dingy shop up three flights is on the face of it no indication of what you want to know—is such and such a company more concerned with developing men and ideas than boosting profits at the expense of service?

You must look deeper. What is the organization's standing in the industry? What do its customers say? What do its competitors say?

There are industries and there are companies which offer you every opportunity to grow. Spiritually they are as big and broad as the earnest man hopes to build himself. If you are that kind of man you will be satisfied with a company of no lower standards.

Conversely, if you are working for such a big-souled company, the very fact will argue that you yourself are a man worth while. For in business as in social life a man is known by the company he picks.

LIBRARY NOTES

Alexander Woollcott, '09, whose interest in modern drama is well-known, has recently given to the college Library about thirty-five volumes of recent plays and dramatic criticism. Mr. Woollcott has mentioned that he is planning to send to the Library parcels of work on these subjects from his personal library. A special book plate has been prepared to mark the volumes presented by him.

Of special interest to students of economic and industrial conditions will be the two new atlases, recently placed on the shelves in the Library. One of the books is an English book, while the other comes from Germany. Both volumes contain industrial and economic maps of the various countries and particular attention is given to the smallest sections. The German book is perhaps the more complete of the two as all its maps show the mountain ranges and a separate book of index to locations is also included with it.

ALUMNI OBITUARY NOTES

—Arthur R. Getman, '84, of Richfield Springs, died on January 25 at the age of sixty years. Mr. Getman entered Hamilton from Richfield Academy and remained two years after graduation to receive his master's degree in 1886. While in college he was noted for his ability as a public speaker and during his later life, he had a reputation as one of the best after-dinner speakers in Otsego County. For three years after leaving college, he was a teacher, but gave this up to become a civil engineer. He was appointed to a position in the State Highway Department in 1911 and, at the time of his death, was a State Highway Inspector. For five years he was clerk of the Otsego County Board of Supervisors and was one of the best-known men of his village and county. He was a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

—Judge Cornelius E. Lucky, '69, died on Jan. 23, at the Oppenheim and Kelso Hospital in Knoxville, Tenn., at the age of 81 years. His last illness lastted some four weeks, before which time he had attended his office regualrly, and ahd been in good physical condition for one of his age.

Judge Lucky was born in 1841 at Jonesboro, Tenn. He attended the old Jonesboro Academy, and in 1857 entered Jefferson Academy in Blountville, Tenn. From 1859 to 1861 he was a student at Emory and Henry College in Virginia, leaving to join the Confederate Army. He enlisted in the Sixteenth Tennessee Infantry, and with it participated in many of the engagements of the war, until its surrender at the fall of Vicksburg in 1863. Upon being exchanged, he at once rejoined his old brigade, reorganized as mounted infantry, and served with conspicous gallantry until the end of the war.

After the surrender of Appomattox, he returned to his home, and in a few months commenced reading law, until he obtained sufficient funds to continue his college education. He entered Hamilton in 1866, and graduated three years later with a Phi Beta Kappa key and other honors.

Returning to Tennessee, Judge Lucky settled at Knoxville, and built up a large law practice there, becoming one of the most prominent men in the city.

Judge Lucky was a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity.

DEBATE SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Five Debates To Be Held—Hamilton Represented by Different Team in Each

Manager Yates has announced the intercollegiate debate schedule for the remainder of the season. Five contests have been arranged. These consist of meetings with Williams, Lafayette, Union, Rutgers, and Middlebury. In each of these debates Hamilton will be represented by a different team.

On Feb. 23, Hamilton will debate with Williams in the Utica Free Academy. The team selected is composed of Hartness, '22, Smalley, '22, Alfange, '22, and Lehmann, '25, alternate. They will uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved, that the United States should claim full payment of the debts owed her by the allied nations."

On March 17, Lafayette, Union and Hamilton will participate in a triangular debate on the question, "Resolved, that the principle of the closed shop is justifiable." Hamilton's negative team will meet the Lafayette team here and will consist of Westbrook, '22, Burke, '23, Kibler, '22, and Spencer, '23, alternate. On the same night, Hamilton's affirmative team, consisting of Fuess, '24, Connell, '25, Smalley, '22, and Briggs, '25, alternate, will travel to Schenectady to meet Union.

Mason, '22, Perrine, '25, Alfange, '22, and Gualtieri, '25, alternate, will debate Rutgers on March 31 at New Brunswick. They will uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved, that the United States government should enforce the principle of the open shop upon the railroads."

A debate will also be held on March 31 at Middlebury, when Hamilton will oppose Middlebury on the question, "Resolved, that the employees on interstate railways should be forbidden by Federal law to strike." The Hamilton team composed of Yates, '23, Lewi, '24, Hartness, '22, and Harding, '25, alternate, will uphold the negative.
